

Y6

Does the economy always serve society?

Impact

By the end of this unit children will...

That the economy must serve the people and not, that the people work to serve the economy.

As we delve deeper into our 'Big question' we will work around the theme of 'The rights of the worker'. We will be exploring trade and the economy, we will look into the UK's import and export links: understanding that every person has the right to work and earn a fair and just wage. We will look into who the UK trades with and why, and how this impacts upon the worker and their communities. Children will come to a deeper understanding of the significance of fair trade and how this actively promotes a fairer economy and the right of the worker.

Intent

It is our vision that our children will become advocates for social justice, fighters for sustainability, seekers of equality and leaders seeking to become "builders of a new humanity" Pope Francis. Through this unit of work children will develop a deeper understanding of rights we all have and what they can do to help build equality amongst workers.

Catholic Social Teaching

Dignity of Work and Rights of the worker

We each have the right to participate and work within God's creation. For this dignity of work to be preserved, then the rights of workers must be protected – the right to work, to a fair wage.

"The Lord blesses our work so that we may share its fruits with others."
